Where we're going today...

Check your draft against the Complete criteria

Partner swap: analysis, or summary?

Writing time, plus one-on-one check-ins

Complete means you have...

Applied at least two metafunctions, each tied to specific evidence from your text

Shown what each choice foregrounds, obscures, or strengthens

Written in your own words, except where quoting the text

Gone past naming. “This is positive appraisal” isn’t analysis on its own.

Analysis, not summary

Summary: the article says the province is ending the pilot.

Naming: “This is an example of positive appraisal.”

Analysis: what the appraisal hides, and whose position it helps.

60 min, your draft

10 min: self-check against the Complete criteria

15 min: partner swap. Summary, naming, or analysis?

35 min: write. I'll circulate for check-ins.
